Continuing Education in Anaesthesia, Critical Care & Pain (CEACCP) Editorial Board Membership

The British Journal of Anaesthesia invites applications for two vacancies on the Editorial Board of Continuing Education in Anaesthesia, Critical Care & Pain (CEACCP) to commence in January 2015. The appointment will be for a five-year term in the first instance, renewable for a further five years.

To be eligible for appointment, applicants should be engaged in a substantive academic or clinical position, with significant clinical experience in one or more fields of anaesthesia, critical care and pain medicine. Applicants should in addition have experience of the editorial process and in the preparation and submission of high quality articles for publication.

For post 1 we would especially welcome applications from clinicians with a significant and established interest in paediatric anaesthesia.

For post 2 we would especially welcome applications from clinicians with a significant and established interest in chronic pain medicine.

However, with the continuing development of CEACCP, Editors are expected to contribute to the commissioning of more general articles, in addition to articles on specific topics.

The duties of Editorial Board members include:

1. To commission at least five continuing education articles per year.
2. To attend and contribute to the two Editorial committee Meetings each year.
3. To assist the Editor-in-Chief by providing editorial expertise and reviewing articles submitted for publication.
4. To use and familiarise themselves with Scholar One, the editorial management software used to manage commissioned manuscripts in progress.

Applications, in the form of a covering letter, a brief CV (maximum two sides of A4) and a list of publications in the past five years should be sent to the Editor-in-Chief, Dr Jeremy Langton, to ceaccp@rcoa.ac.uk by Tuesday, 30 September 2014.
